Section 3. Role. The role of the Wyoming Republican Party is: to recruit citizens to join the Republican Party; to establish the Platform of the Wyoming Republican Party; to achieve the election of Republican candidates who substantially uphold the platform of the Wyoming Republican Party and to conduct the business of the Wyoming Republican Party.

Article II Procedure and Definitions

Section 1. Parliamentary Authority. The rules contained in the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised shall govern the Wyoming Republican Party in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with these bylaws and any special rules of order the Wyoming Republican Party may adopt.

Section 2. Dispute Resolution Process. The Wyoming Republican Party hereby ratifies the Special Rules Related to Dispute Resolution Process adopted by the State Central Committee at its January 2022 meeting and hereby incorporates the same, with amendments, into its ByLaws as follows:

2.1. In the event of a dispute between or among the following persons or entities, the parties to the dispute shall be required to submit all such disputes to the Party's dispute resolution process described below:

2.1.a. Wyoming Republican Party and one or more State Central Committee members, unless that dispute has been or will be referred to the Investigation Committee; or

2.1.b. Wyoming Republican Party and one or more County Central Committees; or

2.1.c. Any two or more Republican Party entities or members or delegates of those entities, whether they be county or State entities, a central committee or convention.

2.1.d. No party may bring a dispute before the State Party without standing. Standing shall be defined as a condition wherein the disputing party can show connection to, and demonstrate actual harm from, the action in dispute.

2.2. Negotiation. In the event of any dispute arising among any two or more of the parties described above, the parties shall use their best efforts to settle the dispute by direct negotiations between the parties.

2.3. Mediation. If the dispute is not settled promptly through negotiation, the parties shall submit the dispute to the Dispute Resolution Committee. The Dispute Resolution Committee shall consist of no less than five (5), nor more than nine (9), members of the Wyoming Republican Party's State Central Committee from different counties appointed by the State Chairman and ratified by a majority of the State Central Committee.

2.4. Arbitration. If mediation is not successful in resolving the dispute, the matter shall be submitted to final arbitration before the Dispute Resolution Committee.

2.5. Confidentiality. All parties and witnesses during any and all proceedings of the Dispute Resolution Committee agree to keep confidential all information provided and shall be required to sign the SCC's Confidentiality Agreement before participating in any Dispute Resolution Committee proceedings. Failure to keep information confidential or to abide by the agreement shall be disciplined by the SCC and/or may be referred to the Investigation Committee. Further, all documents and other information submitted to the Dispute Resolution Committee, including any transcript of the proceedings, shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed to anyone other than the parties and The State Central Committee in Executive Session.

2.6. Fees. The parties to the dispute shall each pay the Wyoming Republican Party for their proportionate share of the travel expenses and fees of the Dispute Resolution Committee members incurred associated with all meetings and proceedings of the Dispute Resolution Committee but shall otherwise bear their own expenses.

2.7. Representation. Consistent with Robert's Rules of Order, any party may be represented in any arbitration before the Dispute Resolution Committee by any one of the State Central Committee members, whether he is an attorney or non attorney as provided in RONR. No attorney or other representative of a party may participate in any portion of the Dispute Resolution Committee arbitration proceedings unless he is a current State Central Committee member.

2.8. Counsel. The Dispute Resolution Committee may confer with counsel as it sees fit to assist it in determining any procedural and/or legal issues related to the dispute.

2.9. RONR. In resolving the dispute and holding a non-trial type hearing for mediation or arbitration, the Dispute Resolution Committee shall follow the edition of Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised, in effect at the time the matter is first referred to the Dispute Resolution Committee.

2.10. Scheduling. The Chairman of the Dispute Resolution Committee, in his sole discretion, shall advise the parties as to a proposed schedule for resolving the dispute mediation and arbitration, advise the parties whether it wishes to receive briefs, set dates for the providing of witness information and copies of potential exhibits to opposing parties and the committee, and set the date of mediation and arbitration hearing on the matter. The mediation and arbitration hearings shall not be a formal trial-type hearing format and may be handled in such fashion as the Dispute Resolution Committee shall determine, in its discretion.

2.11. Full and Final Judgment. The arbitration decision of the Dispute Resolution Committee is full and final and not appealable. Judgment upon the decision rendered by the Dispute Resolution Committee is a full and final decision and, if the committee desires, may be entered as a final judgment upon a petition to any Court having jurisdiction thereof.

2.12. Sole Remedy. The sole remedy of the above-referenced parties to a dispute is the procedures set forth herein. If either party files an action in court in violation of the dispute resolution process outlined herein, that party shall be liable to indemnify the other party for its costs and attorney's fees incurred in securing a dismissal of, or otherwise defending against, the action as a result of such violation. As to any legal or equitable action filed after the date this dispute resolution process is approved, the party reaffirms and reasserts its rights under the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution to resolve internal political party disputes within the party without interference from any court or state or federal government, and the parties to the dispute shall move the Court to dismiss said action and the dispute will be referred to the Dispute Resolution Committee.

2.13. Severability.
